New History Project: LGBTQ Activism in Seattle

Submitted by Roneva Catherine Keel on October 6, 2016 - 7:12pm

The Seattle Civil Rights & Labor History Project introduces a new component to its website?LGBTQ Activism in Seattle, a history project compiled by graduate student Kevin McKenna. This important new resource documents LGBTQ history and activism in Seattle and Western Washington since the late-nineteenth century and features oral histories with activists and introductory essays about key issues and communities. The project also serves as a gateway to the LGBTQ Special Collections and Archival Resources of the University of Washington Libraries. Follow the link to explore LGBTQ Activism in Seattle.

Update: LGBTQ Activism in Seattle was recently featured by the Simpson Center. Read all about it here.
