Biography
As History Librarian I am here to:

- Recommend resources for your history research topic
- Suggest ways to find primary sources
- Answer your questions via email, phone or in-person
- Meet with you individually to hash out your topic or discuss research strategies
- Inform you about library services

I am responsible for purchasing history-related material for the UW Libraries, creating research and class guides, and teaching library research workshops. My personal research area focuses on the experience of Seattle’s Japanese Americans during WWII.
