HSTAA 203

History in the Age of Trump

Anand Yang

Mondays 4:30-6:20

Is history an antidote to “alternative facts” in a “post-truth” era? This class will highlight the answers and perspectives that history as a discipline offers in deepening and enriching our understanding of our past and present. It will also provide the historical context to make sense of the tumultuous events of today in the U.S. and elsewhere in the world.