

HSTCMP 205

Filipino Histories

Vicente Rafael

Online

This course is a survey of the histories, cultures and politics of Filipinos and the Philippines. Topics include: pre-colonial societies, Spanish and U.S. colonial rule, the rise of nationalism, the Revolution and the First Republic, the Filipino-American war, the Japanese occupation, the postcolonial period leading up to Martial Law, the recurrence of peasant, communist and Muslim rebellions, the beginnings of the Filipino diaspora, the persistence of elite rule amid changing conditions of neo-colonialism and postcolonial globalization.

I&S

What is the relationship between colonialism and nationalism, between politics and religion, and between language and society? How can we understand the persistence of inequality, the structures of authority as well as the histories of rebellion, reform and restoration in the Philippines?